

Pictorial Quiz

Uzma Fasih, Erum Shahid

A 29-year-old lady in her 3rd trimester was referred from the gynaecology department for eye examination as she was suffering from pre-eclampsia. She complained of headache and sudden decrease in vision in both eyes since a few days. On examination, visual acuity is counting fingers at 3 feet in both eyes. Pupillary reactions are sluggish. Anterior segment is normal. Her fundus photograph is given below which is similar for both eyes.

What is the spot diagnosis?

Fig. 1. Fundusoscopic findings

^{1,2} Department of Ophthalmology,
Karachi Medical & Dental College & Abbasi Shaheed Hospital

Correspondence: Dr. Erum Shahid
Department of Ophthalmology, Karachi Medical and Dental College and Abbasi Shaheed Hospital
Email: drerum007@yahoo.com

Date of Submission: 5th August 2017

Date of Acceptance: 2nd December 2017

Answer on Page 293